

POP-UP CLEATS THAT LAST A LIFETIME

One of the easiest ways boat owners can upgrade their vessel is by replacing old-style block cleats with sleek retractable versions for a cleaner appearance and greater safety onboard. Accon Marine is the innovator of such hardware, offering its quality line of Pop-Up® Cleats in a range of sizes for boats small to large alike.

Accon Marine Pop-Up Cleats push down flush into the deck when no longer required, to both eliminate a trip hazard and reduce the snagging of sheets, fishing lines or watersports tow ropes. When needed, they pop open at the touch of a button, ready for use. First introduced in 1988, Accon Marine Pop-Up Cleats are renowned for their long service life, with models installed on boats more than 30 years ago still functioning like new today.

This quality hardware comes in a choice of 4-1/2", 6", 8" and 10" sizes, and in either polished or brushed stainless steel finishes, to suit vessels ranging from compact fishing skiffs to luxury yachts. Each cleat is crafted from marine grade 316 stainless steel for incredible strength and exceptional durability in freshwater and saltwater environments.

Users can choose from traditional models, or stud mount versions with no visible screw holes. Each cleat comes with a backing plate that doubles as a cut-out template. Accon Marine Pop-Up Cleats retail from $137.19 to $323.20 apiece, each backed by a lifetime warranty. Optional waterproofing cups start at $13.08.
