

ESSENTIAL CHOCKS FOLD TO STREAMLINE DECK

Chocks are an essential piece of marine hardware, but they tend to detract from a boat's sleek appearance, particularly if the vessel employs multiple sets to accommodate varied mooring requirements. Accon Marine 502 Series Folding Chocks solve fold flat for a clean, uncluttered, snag-free deck and don't require a cutout for simple OEM or DIY installation.

Forged from polished marine-grade 316 stainless steel, Accon 502 series chocks pull up with light finger pressure when needed and push down flat when not in use. Their convenient surface-mount design requires only three stainless steel screws.

Sold in pairs, 502 series Surface Mount Folding Chocks are offered in two sizes to suit a wide range of watercraft. Model 502-4 measures 114mm L x 61mm W and accommodates lines to 16mm. For larger boats, the 502-6 measures 152mm L x 81mm W, handling up to 19mm lines. Both come in packages comprised of one port and one starboard chock.
