TWO EASY-TO-USE PRODUCTS, ONE CLEAN RV

Between bug splatters and road grime on the front and black streaks off the roof, motorhomes, campers, trailers and overlanders begin to show the miles by the end of summer. But not those driven by seasoned RVers. These experienced veterans use professional-quality Serious Multipurpose Cleaner (SMC) spray and a Bug and Tar Remover Sponge from RV care expert Shurhold to keep their rigs looking their best.

Because SMC doesn't contain harsh chemicals like bleach, it's safe to use on paint, fiberglass, glass and acrylic, and vinyl graphics. It quickly loosens oily grime, roofline drippings, brake dust buildup, diesel exhaust stains and sunbaked bugs. Inside the RV and around the campsite, it's perfect for cleaning carpeting and hard flooring, canvas, kitchen appliances and barbeques. It doesn't leave a residue, so it's ideal to use before waxing.

Using SMC is simple: it's sprayed onto the surface and wiped off. For tougher stains, the formula can set for three minutes to soften the splats and smears. This is where the Bug and Tar Remover Sponge shines. Measuring 7-1/4" L x 4-1/4" W x 2" H and covered with a non-abrasive mesh guard, it quickly removes even the most obstinate contaminants without marring the finish.

A 32 oz. spray bottle of Shurhold SMC costs $13.98; a one-gallon container of concentrated SMC that mixes to make five gallons of solution is $28.98. The Bug and Tar Remover Sponge is $4.98.
